Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

"You can't keep a good man down," so the saying goes, but in this case we apply it to a town, the Town of Waveland, which in the past several months, has shown, that through the combined efforts of Mayor Garfield Ladner, town officials, a citizens rehabilitation committee, and public spirited citizens, just how much can be done if you are willing to work together. . . . on Sunday there was a demonstration of the newly-purchased fire-fighting equipment, which will provide protection for homes in that fast growing town . . . in the matter of building, we'll say conservatively that there are at the present time, at least fifty or more homes under construction or being repaired in Waveland . . . and so it goes, Waveland is on the march, and will be hard to stop, we congratulate not only its officials, but the citizens as well. . . . rumor still persists that it won't be very many days before we have a ferry operating between the old ferry landing at Henderson Point and the factory site at the head of Second Street and the Beach. . . . the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will open their playhouse on Boardman Avenue this week end, when they present "The Night of January 16th" . . . the Bay St. Louis Rock-aways Legion team defeated the Pascagoula team on Tuesday of this week, by a score of 22 to 3 to remain undefeated in the Region 4 playoff, they play again Saturday . . . the Brothers of the Sacred Heart go into their final retreat this week, at which time appointments for the coming school session are made, and it is our guess that due to Brother Peter's continued illness, a temporary successor will be named in his place at Stanislaus . . . ten young ladies will vie for the title of Miss Mississippi, at the University of Mississippi, August 4-5, with the winner scheduled to compete for the title of Miss America at Atlantic City . . . Mississippi's share of the campaign for the states rights movement has been set at $150,000 . . . the heavy rain of Wednesday morning was the first such downpour we've had this summer and was really welcomed by everyone. . . . Mayor, that signal light at Second and Main Streets is fine but the signals change too fast, can't you change timing of these lights so that they will give several cars time to cross the street before changing? would be better . . . Mississippi received an allocation from the Federal government, of $2,195,452 for the school lunch program for next year . . . the city elections are over but remember you have to vote again on August 24th, for the office of Congressman of the Sixth Congressional district, which is now served by the Hon. William M. (Bill) Colmer, who is a candidate for reelection.

Deadline Near On Filing Social Security Claims On Overseas Deaths

August 9, 1948, is the last day for filing claims for lump-sum death benefits under the Social Security Act on account of the death outside the United States of a qualified individual after December 6, 1947, and before August 10, 1948. According to Mrs. Lula Wimberly, Manager of the Gulfport office of the Social Security Administration, any such claims filed after that date, cannot be paid.

Mrs. Wimberly pointed out that Congress amended the Social Security Act in August 1946 to give special consideration in those cases, where servicemen or civilians died outside the United States during and immediately following World War II by extending the legal limit of two years as provided by law. However, the extension was for two years from the date of the amendment and it expires on August 9, 1948.

The survivors of civilians and servicemen, who died overseas and who had earned wages in employment covered by the Social Security Act, are urged by Mrs. Wimberly to inquire as to possible benefits before the deadline. The office located in the Sallum Building, 14th Street and 26th Avenue will render all possible assistance. Non-residents of Gulfport may contact Mrs. Wimberly at the following places: U. S. Employment Office, Biloxi, Miss. each Wednesday morning; U. S. Employment Office, Pascagoula, Miss. on Thursday mornings.

Colmer Leaves For Washington To Attend Session Of Congress

Enthusiastic District Wide Meeting of Supporters Held at Hattiesburg—Commend His Action, And Pledge
Efforts In His Absence To Reelect Him To Congress

Hattiesburg Miss., July 24 (Special)—After a rousing send-off by a District-wide meeting that completely filled and overflowed the Forrest County Court House last night, Congressman Wm. M. Colmer left Hattiesburg today for his home at Pascagoula and thence for Washington. He told the representative gathering from the 16 South Mississippi counties last night, that, as chairman of the 78 member Southern group of the House, he felt that he should return for the special session beginning July 26 to continue the fight against President Truman's proposed civil rights program, notwithstanding his own campaign for re-election.

The enthusiastic, applauding crowd responded by unanimously adopting a resolution "commending his courageous act on the part of our Congressman, Bill Colmer," and pledging the group "to exert our every effort in his absence to re-elect him to Congress where he has served so faithfully and so well."

"That's the biggest crowd seen in Hattiesburg in many a day," a Forrest County official was heard to remark.

Congressman Colmer devoted the greater portion of his talk to what he referred to as "the Presidents mis-called civil rights proposals." He warned that efforts would be made at the special session to have at least part of the program enacted into law.

"I need not remind a Mississippi audience," he told the sweltering but responsive court-room audience and a District-wide radio hook-up, "that I have no animosity, even as you have none, toward the Negro race. We have made great strides in improving the lot of our black brethren. They are our neighbors. We get along with a minimum of racial friction. Our Southern Negroes are not disturbed about their progress. It is the Northern Negro, the Northern white politician, and a small class of do-gooders, who seek, for selfish ends or through ignorance, to create racial troubles in this country."

The civil rights program was spelled out in the Democratic platform at Philadelphia, he said, at the behest of "a couple of erstwhile Socialists from Wisconsin and Minnesota."

The Congressman illustrated the proposed anti-poll tax, anti-lynching, anti-segregation, and F. E. P. C. proposals—all contained in President Truman's program—and declared that they invade the right granted the states under the Constitution.

He declared that the President and the present party leadership "have inflicted the indignities and everlasting wounds upon the South, in an effort to capture the votes of a racial minority, and the South will not forge these insults in November."

Rep. Colmer, a member of the Mississippi delegation that, in accordance with specific instructions from the State Democratic Convention, walked out of the National convention at Philadelphia, continued: "In contrast to the Philadelphia conference was a spontaneous expression of enthusiasm for a principle and a cause."

"The South may not elect Governor Thurmond and Governor Wright as President and Vice President in the November elections, but it will recapture its former position in the party of its fathers. The South, by its action, will no longer be considered in the bag."

Miss Evelyn Gandy, Hattiesburg, Forrest County Representative in the Mississippi Legislature, delivered the address of welcome and presided at the meeting. Bruce Aultman, young Hattiesburg attorney, presented Congressman Colmer.

He declared that the President and the present party leadership "have inflicted the indignities and everlasting wounds upon the South, in an effort to capture the votes of a racial minority, and the South will not forge these insults in November."

FIRE PREVENTION DAY OBSERVED IN WAVELAND

Fire Fighting Equipment on Parade And Demonstrated

In observation of Fire Prevention Day, Sunday, July 25, Mayor Garfield Ladner of Waveland and the town officials, the Citizens Rehabilitation Committee, and residents and visitors joined in a parade which started at the town hall at 3:00 o'clock. The purpose of the parade was, to display the fire-fighting equipment which has been secured by the town through the efforts of the Citizens Rehabilitation Committee and the officials.

At the conclusion of the parade it was planned to place the pumper at the head of Coleman Avenue to draw the water from the Mississippi Sound and discharge it through 1200 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose which was stretched along Coleman Avenue. As usual when a good show is planned some trouble develops. It was the first experience of the men handling this equipment where they were under observation and some difficulty arose which delayed the demonstration for a short time. A gasket was broken from the pump which prevented the suction from operating properly. When this had been taken care of, a real pressure of water was secured and carried such force that two sections of hose burst.

The demonstration clearly showed the usefulness of this fire-fighting apparatus and delays caused at the beginning of the demonstration should bring forcibly to the minds of those in charge the urgency and need of training of men to handle this equipment. A good start has been made and the Citizens Rehabilitation Committee and the officials of the Town of Waveland deserve much credit for their efforts to give fire protection to the residents of this fast growing town.

COULD BE THE TURNING POINT

BY A GUEST EDITOR

The results of the elections of the past two weeks could easily be the turning point in the administration of our City government, a turn for the better, or it could drift along and follow the path of least resistance, as has been the policy for the past sixteen years. In any event whichever course we choose to take, depends entirely upon us, the citizens of Bay St. Louis. The new members-elect of the City Commission Council, who will take up the reins of government along with one of the present members, are young men with young ideas, who will bend every effort toward the betterment and upbuilding of our community, but their task will be a tough one and they cannot hope to succeed without the full cooperation of the people they have been elected to serve.

Regardless of your political alignment, before the elections, and whether your candidate won or lost, be good sports, and join hands with your neighbors and work together for one common cause, the rebuilding of Bay St. Louis. To put it back on the map where it rightfully belongs.

Remember that nothing succeeds like success, and if through combined efforts Bay St. Louis can become a thriving business community, you too, will feel the effects of success in your own business and everyone will prosper. Besides good year-round business to bring payrolls to our town, to take care of our permanent residents, we can also draw a lot of summer and winter tourist trade here with the building of a sand beach and beach park and municipal pier to help us to take advantage of our natural God-given resources.

Of course, we could go on and on with a list of things we would like to see done, but the point is that no one official or group of officials can accomplish these things without the cooperation of the public they serve. So we appeal to you again as good citizens to lay aside your political prejudices and personal feelings and work together as a combined unit and you can be sure that it won't be long until your efforts will begin to bear the fruit for which you have labored. Then and only then can you lift your head and point with pride to the good that will have been done and say, "I did my part."

AN INVITATION

In this issue we are carrying our first guest editorial. This has been supplied by a citizen of Bay St. Louis who is interested in the development and future of our city and county.

We were only happy to allow this person the opportunity of expressing his views in matters of public interest and we extend a general invitation to those who may be interested in offering an editorial suggestion or who may want to express their views in letter form for use in our columns. We feel that a general discussion of our needs will probably enhance our opportunity. The publisher of your paper may express his views and of course they are the views of only one human being; it isn't possible for these views to always be correct and we, above all, will certainly appreciate editorial comments, or letters that may be published, discussing questions that may be of real value and importance in the building of a bigger and better Hancock County.

We definitely are not limiting our efforts to Bay St. Louis, for with the building of other sections of the County, Bay St. Louis will receive its fair share if proper efforts are put forth.

Bay St. Louis Rockchaws Defeat Pascagoula In Regional Play-Off

The American Legion Baseball Team trounced Pascagoula here Tuesday afternoon in a one-sided affair by a score of 22-3. The Rockchaws, aided by the 2 hit pitching and grand slam home run of Buddy Pitalo, looked like real champions and connected for a total of 20 hits off three visiting pitchers.

Charley Ladner and D. J. Luc of the Rocks hit safely 4 times and each had a homer to his credit. The battery of Pitalo and L. Ladner accounted for 5 hits and 5 runs.

The Rockchaws' next game will be Saturday, July 31, when they meet the winner of the Gulfport-Pascagoula game in a best 2 out of 3 game playoff.

National Farm Safety Week Has Been Proclaimed For July 25th-31st.

Goal of active participation by all farm families is to eliminate at least one hazard for every member of the family.

The great toll due to farm accidents may be judged by the estimate that, unless something is done to remove hazards, a disabling injury will strike some farm resident every 19 seconds, and accidents will kill an average of 51 farm residents every day in this country.

Falls of persons is the leading type of farm work accident, according to the National Safety Council. Accidents involving machinery rank second, while those involving animals and hand tools almost tie for third place.

Mississippi farmers are urged to eliminate all hazards possible during National Farm Safety Week, and to be continually aware of possible dangers on the farm.

Check sheets of hazards are available in many communities. These consider such things as precautions to take when working around machinery, replacement of unsafe steps or floor boards, elimination of trash which is a fire hazard, proper handling of animals, proper electrical installations and safe use of hand tools.

Retreats

Starting this Friday and ending Sunday, a retreat for ladies will be held at Blink Memorial Home (St. Margaret's Daughters) with Father William Grangell C. S. S. R. of San Antonio, Texas as retreat master. Mrs. L. Castell of New Orleans will be hostess for the retreat.

A Sodalist retreat was held recently at the Home with Father Charles J. Lashley S.J. of Tampa, Fla. as retreat master.

A ladies retreat was given Saturday of last week with Father Wm. Grangell C.S.S.R. of San Antonio, Texas retreat master. Mrs. George Guilbault organist and director of Our Lady of the Gulf Church choir has also taken care of the music for the retreats.

Back-Sliders

A fellow approached me the other day with this question: "Why do you approve the legal sale of beer? You're always talking about the Mississippi Division of the U. S. Brewers Foundation and the job it does in weeding out beer dealers who allow bad conditions to exist. After all these years, it looks like they would have weeded 'em all out."

I confessed: "Brother, at times I've been a back-slider in the community, but there's always someone to remind me that I have obligations. And I'm mighty glad to get back into the swing of things and do my part."

"It's about the same with a beer dealer," I said. "You may find a back-slider in the beer business once in a great while, but the brewing industry is right in there pitching, to remind him of his obligations, and to set him straight on his responsibility to the community."

Well, from where I sit, I don't like to be a back-slider and I don't like to see one. That's why I like the Brewers program for the public's protection.

A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY & MONDAY "THE IRON CURTAIN"

New Spy Drama, Stars Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney

With the opening Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theatre of "The Iron Curtain," starring Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney, Twentieth Century-Fox brings to screen life the actual story behind headlines that startled the world just two years ago.

The amazing disclosures of a world-wide network of intrigue that erupted in Canada with the exposure last year of a fabulously complex and daring atom bomb plot, brought to light a story unequalled by anything that even E. Phillips Oppenheim, that old master of spy fiction, ever wrote. It proved to be, in fact, the most amazing plot in 3300 years of recorded espionage.

The dramatic and suspenseful—yet true, documented—story was filmed with the same technique so successfully employed in "The House on 92nd Street." In "The Iron Curtain," the realistic screen style which has proven more exciting than any fiction in such pictures as "13 Rue Madeleine," "Boomerang" and "Call Northside 777," throws a brilliant, all-revealing light on modern espionage in a manner that has all the startling conviction of reality.

Author Milton Krims, one of Hollywood's more brilliant screenwriters, who wrote "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," examined some 1800 documents and spent months in Ottawa, Canada, and Washington, D. C., to obtain the data used in "The Iron Curtain."

He found that espionage today ranks as a major industry in the fabulous game of power politics. He discovered actual episodes so fantastic that he was forced to leave them out of his script because they were unbelievable.

As the couple in "The Iron Curtain" who are destined always to live in danger and never to know a quiet moment, the studio chose Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney. Andrews is seen as Gouzenko, the Embassy code clerk, who exposed the spy ring, while Miss Tierney is his wife, Anna, who wanted only that their son be brought up in a country free from fear.

June Havoc provides a modern antidote to the classic conception of the slinky female-spy with her portrayal of Karanova. Others in the outstanding supporting cast include Berry Kroeger as John Grubb, chief Canadian contact for the spy ring; Edna Best as Mrs. Foster, the good neighbor who befriended Anna; Stefan Schnabel as Ranev, ruthless head of the spy ring; Nicholas Joy as Dr. Norman, sympathetic physicist on the National Research Council; Eduard Franz as Major Kulin, who dared disobey orders; and Frederic Toivore as the Embassy's imperious military attaché.

Director William A. Wellman and Producer Sol C. Siegel, seeking the realism that no amount of detailed work in movie sets can give, filmed most of the picture on the streets of Ottawa, Canada, against such backgrounds as Parliament Building, the Ministry of Justice, the National Research Council and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Headquarters. Krims' screenplay was based on the personal story of Igor Gouzenko, former code clerk of the U. S. S. R. Embassy in Ottawa.

IT WAS ONLY Clay A FEW WEEKS AGO

The foundation of that new home of yours...the walls of that new factory in town...were part of a deposit of clay only a few weeks ago. But the brick industry fashioned the clay into bricks, baked them in ovens fired by natural gas, then shipped the finished products to places where they were needed. In this way, an otherwise valueless product of Nature was given importance and value.

It is the same with nearly all natural resources. Take natural gas, for example. Our company and others like it must find the gas, produce and process it, then move it to market before it is of value to mankind. This is practical conservation, for it stimulates industrial development, creates jobs and benefits all the families of the South.

The brick industry is working at top capacity to meet the expanding construction requirements of the Gulf South. Here, indeed, is an excellent example of the American system of Free Enterprise, with private capital and private energies combined for the benefit of all.

Another Industrial Plant for Mississippi!

Another new modern high pressure steam electric generating plant for Mississippi is on the drawing board. Destined to be a part of the State's expanding industrial development it will be built on Mississippi Power Company's interconnected transmission system serving Southeast Mississippi.

The new plant will cost approximately $4,000,000; will have an initial capacity of 40,000 horsepower; and is scheduled for construction in Lauderdale county near Meridian.

Major items of equipment have been on order for some time. Present promises set turbine delivery date for February 1951 with plant completion following some months later if no unexpected delays or circumstances occur.

Mississippi Power Company is already the largest taxpayer in Southeast Mississippi. The new plant to be built on the Company's lines will be another taxpaying enterprise and will add to the economic advancement of the section.

COUNTY AGENTS' NOTES

With pullets on the range and laying flocks culled to a minimum for the hot summer days, it is time for poultrymen to take time out and analyze the practices they intend to follow this fall when pullets are placed in the laying house.

Labor costs can be reduced by making the job of poultry management simple, easy and time-saving. Poultrymen can reduce costs by considering watering, feeding, gathering eggs and cleaning.

An average flock of 100 hens will consume six gallons of water daily. Small water containers that tip over make extra work. Many poultrymen use large fountains which need only one filling per day.

Poultrymen who have running water should install automatic fountains and save carrying eight or nine tons of water every year per 100 hens. One experiment station reports that the average poultryman spends 31 minutes a day carrying feed for each 100 hens.

Much labor in feeding can be eliminated by having a feed room joined to the poultry house. If this cannot be arranged, feed barrels in the poultry house will save a lot of steps.

One nest per five or six hens in the flock is sufficient. Arrange nests for the convenience of persons gathering the eggs. Discard unnecessary objects which get in the way on the poultry house floor.

Cleaning of poultry houses is simplified by the use of dropping pits which need cleaning only three or four times a year. Built-up litter with plenty of room for each laying hen and free ventilation, will overcome dampness.

Awards for Mississippi grown fruits and vegetables of good quality will be made on the opening day of Central Farmers Market, Jackson, July 31.

A total of $500 in cash prizes is offered by Hinds County and the City of Jackson to stimulate further interest in organized production, grading, packing and marketing of products of this state.

Entry rules state that all vegetables and fruits must be Mississippi grown, of good edible quality, graded and packed in the best manner possible under existing farm conditions and must arrive at the Central Farmers Market not later than 7:00 a. m. July 31.

First prizes of $25 and second prizes of $15 are offered for the best graded and packed load of mixed vegetables and fruits, for the best of vegetables alone and for the best for fruits alone.

The producer travelling the furthest distance in Mississippi to the Central Farmers Market with a load of vegetables or fruits will be awarded $37.50. Cash awards will also be made for the best load of Mississippi grown watermelons and cantaloupes, and for one bushel units of tomatoes, lima beans, sweet peppers, okra, cucumbers, green field peas, eggplant, yellow squash, peaches or pears and for apples. There is also an award for the best 50 pound sack of Irish potatoes.

The rutabaga turnip is a useful fall and winter crop which is usually seeded in late summer.

Soil for rutabaga should be deep, contain much organic matter and have a high moisture-holding capacity. Seeding is ordinarily in July or early August, but may be in January in south and central Mississippi.

Seed are sown in a drill in single rows two and one-half feet apart. When the plants become established, they are thinned to 3 to 5 inches apart in the drill.

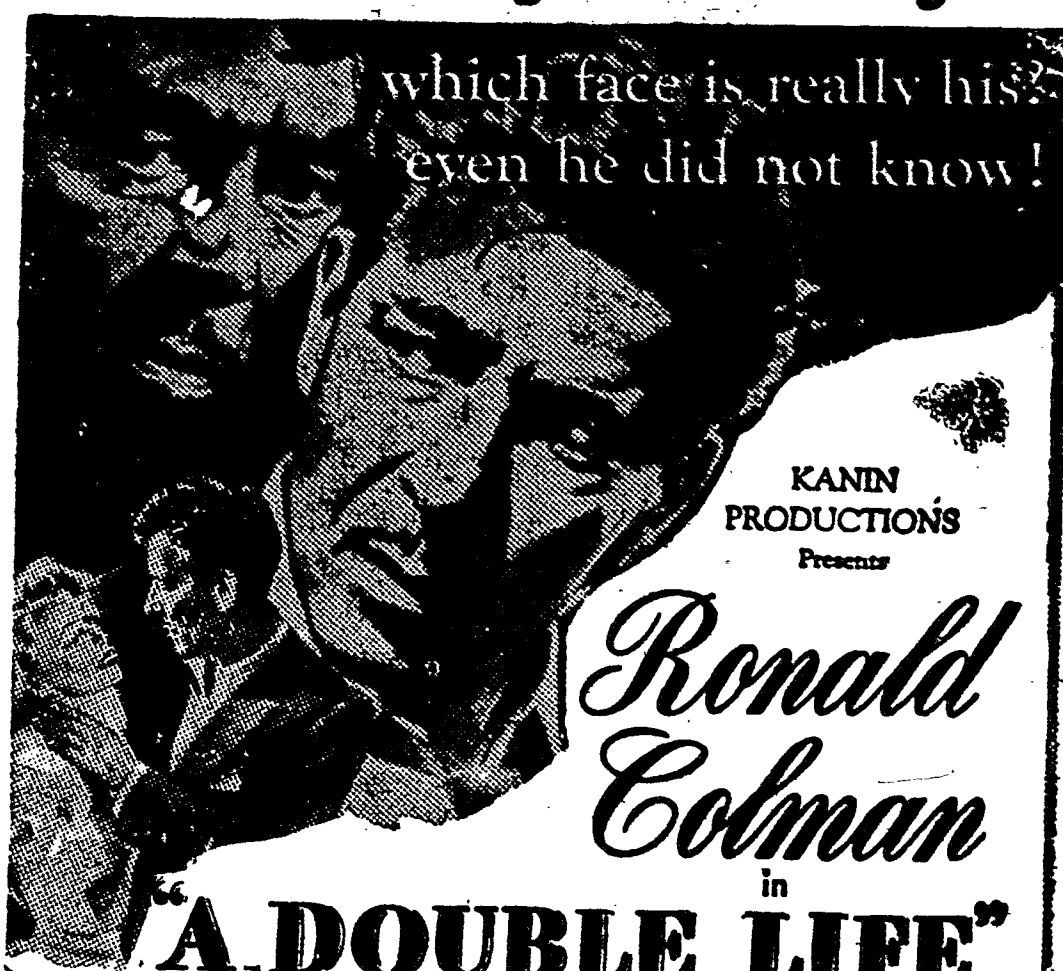

Light, shallow cultivation is essential to keep down weeds and grass and to keep the soil mulched.

The rutabaga produces a dense root and requires about three months to mature, making it generally necessary to plant the seed in late summer for root development before freezing weather occurs.

The variety recommended is Improved American.

Milk & Money

Governor Fielding L. Wright proclaimed June as "Dairy Month" in Mississippi. According to the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Board, beef and dairy cattle are on the increase in Mississippi.

The cattle and calf population of Mississippi was 1,750,479 in 1945 and is now in excess of that number. Since 1939, there has been an increase of over 65% in the number of beef cattle and calves. The value of cattle in the State as of 1947 was estimated to be $88,454,000.

Mississippi farms produced 155,797,487 gallons of milk in 1945, an increase of 19% over 1939. With 23,919 farms selling milk, with eleven creameries and fifteen cheese plants, Mississippi marketed 12,338,333 lbs. of cheese and 4,020,884 lbs. of butter in 1945 and in that year farmers received over $14,000,000 for milk.

Cattle-tick eradication, better breeds, improved feeding and higher prices have given the cattle industry encouragement. We should be able to produce beef and milk cheaper here than in colder climes where cattle are housed in winter quarters.

The advantages of good water, an adequate climate and year 'round pastures should make Mississippi a Land of Milk and Money.

ORTTE THEATRE
WED. AND THURSDAY
"A DOUBLE LIFE"

With Ronald Colman—The Picture That Won The Academy Award For The Year

One of the most magnificent and thrilling stage performances ever incorporated in a motion picture will be seen in Universal-International's "A Double Life." Wednesday and Thursday at the Ortte Theatre.

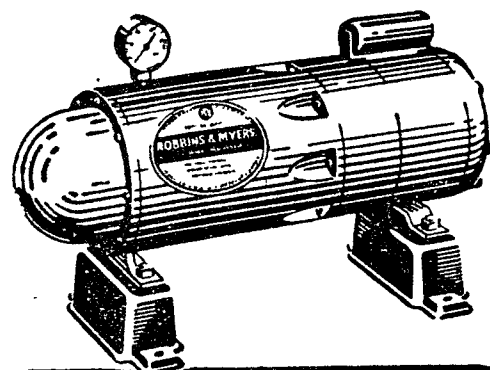

The film stars Ronald Colman in the story of a great Broadway actor who becomes so engrossed with his stage roles that he carries their characteristics into his personal life. This obsession results in many fantastic adventures and eventually drives him to suicide.

As a motivating influence for his complex behavior there are scenes of Colman on the stage playing the title role of "Othello"—first on the opening night later after the play has been running six months and than as it goes into its second year.

First Shakespearean Role
This picture marks Colman's first venture as a Shakespearean actor. However, even though the scenes are brief, his performance as Othello will long be remembered. Equally, as exciting is the star's portrayal of a man unable to control the violent half of a double personality.

"A Double Life" also brings to the screen a new and radiant Signe Hasso. Having played a number of somewhat drab roles since her arrival in this country several years ago, she is seen as Colman's leading lady and ex-wife. Another player in the film is Edmond O'Brien, whose career is forging ahead since his discharge from the Army.

Written by Garson Kanin and Ruth Gordon the picture is given the true Broadway flavor as only these two experts from the theater could give it. This flavor is greatly enhanced by two weeks of actual filming in New York City. Produced by Michael Kanin the story is deftly picturized by Director George Cukor.

Notice To All Seafood Workers & Fishermen

We wish to announce the opening and operation of our SEAFOOD PLANT at Lake shore for the season beginning Aug. 9, 1948. All factory workers are requested to apply in person at the factory on Monday, August 2 or Tuesday, August 3.

For the future prosperity of our community we ask the support of all local fishermen in furnishing us with their production. Every barrel of shrimp sold to us is an additional $5 that we must pay to our factory workers. These factory workers are your relatives or neighbors. This money paid to them in wages is paid in turn to the local merchants for food, clothes, medicines, entertainment. Everyone in Hancock County has a stake in our successful operation. In four short weeks before the hurricane this factory paid $27,760 to the fishermen and factory workers. God willing and with the cooperation of all of you we can increase this ten fold.
